(54) Title: SIMPLE PROGRAM GUIDE

(57) Abstract: An electronic program guide (100) includes a channel list (105) of available channels and a program list (110) of programs which is displayed concurrently with the channel list (105) in response to selection of a selected channel from the available channels. The programs displayed on the program list (110) are exclusively associated with the selected channel. The channel list (105) is displayed in response to accessing the electronic program guide (100), such as by activating an access switch (240) of a remote controller (200). Both the channel and program lists are displayed in response to accessing the programs list, such as by double clicking on the access switch (240) or activating a program switch (245) of the remote controller (200).
